22 DECEMBER IS JAAN TÕNISSON'S 155TH BIRTHDAY

Jaan Tõnisson was a creator. He was a statesman, politician, and jurist, one of the creators of Estonian national political ideology and the leader of its moderate direction. He advocated a nationalism based on a solid moral foundation, aiming to become more significant in spirit. In many ways, his organization laid the foundation for the so-called Tartu Renaissance. In 1896, Jaan Tõnisson and his friends bought the newspaper "Postimees", turning it into a tribune of the national movement for decades.

At the beginning of the 20th century, young Estonian intellectuals led by Jaan Tõnisson founded the first Estonian-language secondary school, the present-day Miina Härma Gümnaasium, and in the following decade, came to create their own country. He was a member of the Constituent Assembly and Riigikogu, a minister, prime minister and head of state. Jaan Tõnisson was one of the creators of the Estonian state.

At the conference "Aade viib edasi", dedicated to the 155th anniversary of Jaan Tõnisson's birth, held on 22 December at the library of the University of Tartu, the spirituality, morality, justice and law will be discussed, which Jaan Tõnisson was guided by in his activities. These are the values on which our school was founded at one time and which we still consider important today.

All those interested are welcome to the conference dedicated to Jaan Tõnisson starting at 12 on 22 December in the University Library; also to the lighting of candles at the foot of the Jaan Tõnisson monument at 17:00 and the concert at St. John's Church at 18:00.
