- Music teacher Lilia Ilves participated in the work group of the national music curriculum implementation program.
- Beatrice Veidenberg, a French language teacher and UT master's student in Classical Philology was awarded a scholarship named after Jaan Kaplinski. Her research topic is the choral part of Aichylos' work "Supplications" and its poetic-mythical use of language, which updated the ancient tragedy.
- Henrik Harjus (11a) is one of the 25 young Estonians who were selected for the Academy of Democracy. The first meeting will take place already on 26-27 January, and the topic is politics and society. Henrik writes: "The President Kaljulaid Democracy Academy is a study program organized by the President Kaljulaid Foundation. Its task is to develop young people's knowledge of democracy, state governance and the media. During the program, students can meet several experts from various fields and travel all over Estonia. I decided to apply because I find that it is a very unique opportunity to expand one's knowledge. There is no similar study program in Estonia that would bring together young people of basic school and secondary school age and experts in the field of public administration." <https://kerstikaljulaid.ee/fond/akadeemia>

NOTICED AT HÄRMA

- On 16 January, Pre-IB and 11DP Biology students visited the University of Tartu's national genetic research lab. UT researchers showed where the genetic information of nearly 210,000 Estonians is located and how it is accurately genotyped. The study trip was organized by teacher Kirstin Karis.

EV PRESIDENT ALAR KARIS'S INVITATION TO PARTICIPATE

- For the third time, President Alar Karis invites school students aged 7-19 years to writing and thought workshops in January-February. The theme "Did I dream of Estonia?" is inspired by the poem of the poet Juhan Liiv, whose 160th birthday we celebrate this year.
- When Juhan Liiv wrote the poem of the same title in 1895, Estonia could only be dreamed of. It was something that could only be dreamed of very secretly because, for a newly emerging nation, its own country was still something unimaginable. Yet only a few decades later, it was born.
- If today's youth saw Estonia in a dream, what would they see or want to see? What would Estonia be like? Some may see there as the glow of the past, some as the reflection of the present. Someone imagines the Estonia of the future instead. Or they remember events from the day that just passed, which was amazing or in which some things could have been different. Some see dreams full of hope and beauty, while some dream of their own or a friend's personal worries. Some see their ancestors, some their descendants. Some find themselves somewhere in Estonia, others a little bit of Estonia somewhere inside themselves. Every young person can see in their dream what they have deep in their soul. And sometimes you can see in a dream what you obviously don't want to tell anyone.
- You can write the president a piece in the free form up to two A4 pages or up to 5,000 characters long, both manually and electronically. The Chancellery of the President of the Republic finds an opportunity to publish the thoughts and writings of the authors of the brightest writings, publishes a selection of thoughts at the summer park exhibition in Kadriorg, and invites some of the writers to the Rose Garder as an appreciation.
- Written works are expected in the week before the anniversary of the Republic by February 14 to the Chancellery of the President of the Republic at A. Weizenbergi 39, 15050 Tallinn, or by e-mail to the address Eestile@vpk.ee. When sending your written work, please include your name, age, school and grade, address and phone number.
- By sending the piece of writing, the author confirms that the work was created independently. Also, the author or their legal representative, if the writer is under 18 years of age, consents to the use and publication of the name and text by sending the writing.
- More information can be requested by writing to Eestile@vpk.ee or by calling 631 6202.

DIGITAL CLEANUP WEEK

- From 22nd-28th January, the Estonian Green School program is hosting the DIGITAL CLEANUP WEEK, during which all educational institutions, students, families, and other interested parties are invited to organize their digital devices, deleting unnecessary information noise and files. Participants in the campaign have the chance to win exciting raffle prizes. Register and read more here: (<https://www.tartuloodusmaja.ee/digikoristusnadal2024>)
- In addition, during the digital cleanup week (26.01), there's also a nationwide Telia Digital Cleanup Day (<https://digikoristuspaev.telia.ee/en/#>), where registration also offers a chance to win prizes.
